1. About these terms

These Terms of Service ("Terms") govern your use of CineHub, an online movie ticket booking service. By creating an account, browsing showtimes, or making a booking, you agree to these Terms.

CineHub is operated by the CineHub team ("CineHub", "we", "us", or "our"). If you do not agree with these Terms, please do not use the service.

These Terms should be read together with our Privacy, Cookies and Data Retention Policy, Account and Registration Policy, and Booking, Seat and Cancellation Policy.

2. Eligibility and accounts

- You must provide accurate and complete information when you register.
- You must use a valid email address that belongs to you.
- You may hold only one CineHub account per email address.
- CineHub currently allows a maximum of 10 registered accounts in total. Registration closes when this limit is reached.
- You are responsible for keeping your password confidential and for all activity performed through your account.
- You must not share your account, sell it, or transfer it to another person.
- If you are under 18, you may use CineHub only with the involvement of a parent or legal guardian and subject to any age rules applied by the theatre.

3. Using CineHub

You agree to use CineHub only for lawful, personal, and non-commercial purposes. You must not:

- book seats for the purpose of resale, speculation, or commercial gain;
- create multiple accounts to bypass booking limits or the account limit;
- use bots, scripts, automated tools, or scraping software against the service;
- attempt to access another user's account, bookings, or personal information;
- interfere with the security, availability, or integrity of the service;
- submit false, misleading, or fraudulent information; or

- use the service in a way that violates applicable law or theatre rules.

We may suspend or terminate access where we reasonably believe these rules have been broken.

4. Movies, showtimes, and seat availability

- Movie details, theatre details, showtimes, seat maps, and prices are supplied as data in the CineHub system.
- Showtimes are displayed as they are stored in the system. The service does not currently filter out showtimes that have already passed.
- Seat availability is checked when you submit a booking. CineHub does not place a temporary hold on seats while you are selecting them.
- A seat is not reserved for you until a booking has been successfully created and marked as confirmed.
- The price shown for a showtime applies to the seats in that booking. CineHub does not currently apply different prices by seat type.

5. Bookings and confirmation

- To create a booking, select an available showtime, choose at least one seat, and submit the booking form.
- A successful booking is created with the status CONFIRMED.
- Each booking receives a booking reference in the format CH- followed by 10 letters or numbers.
- Each user may hold a maximum of 3 confirmed bookings at a time. Cancelled bookings do not count toward this limit.
- The booking confirmation is displayed on screen. CineHub does not currently send confirmation emails or SMS messages.
- You should save your booking reference and keep it available when contacting support or attending the theatre.
- You can view your bookings in the My Bookings area of the service.

6. Payments and refunds

- CineHub does not currently provide an online payment gateway and does not collect card, bank, or wallet details.
- A booking is marked CONFIRMED without an online payment step.
- The amount shown on the booking is the showtime price multiplied by the number of selected seats. CineHub does not currently calculate separate taxes, convenience fees, or seat-type surcharges.
- Because no online payment is collected by CineHub, CineHub does not process online refunds.
- Any payment, refund, or adjustment handled directly by a theatre is a matter between you and that theatre and is outside the CineHub application.

7. Cancellation

- You can cancel a booking only while its status is CONFIRMED.
- Cancellation is available from the booking details page and requires the booking to belong to your account.
- CineHub does not currently apply a cancellation deadline. A confirmed booking can be cancelled even after the showtime has passed.
- Cancellation is immediate and cannot be undone. The booking status changes to CANCELLED, the seats are released for other users, and the cancelled booking no longer counts toward your 3-booking limit.
- Cancelled bookings remain visible in your booking history.
- No online refund is issued because CineHub does not collect online payments.

8. User responsibilities

You are responsible for:

- checking the movie, theatre, screen, date, time, seats, and price before confirming a booking;
- arriving at the theatre on time and following the theatre's entry rules;
- keeping your login details secure;
- using a valid email address; and
- contacting support promptly if you believe your account or a booking has been misused.

9. Intellectual property

CineHub and its branding, interface, text, and software are protected by applicable intellectual property laws. Movie titles, images, trailers, and other third-party content belong to their respective owners. You may not copy, modify, distribute, or commercially exploit CineHub content without permission.

10. Service availability and changes

CineHub is a limited-capacity service. We may change, suspend, or withdraw features, showtimes, or the service itself for maintenance, security, capacity, or business reasons.

We do not guarantee that the service will always be available, error-free, or free from interruptions. The current 10-account limit is a system constraint and may be changed in a future version.

11. Limitation of liability

To the maximum extent permitted by law, CineHub is not responsible for:

- losses caused by incorrect information supplied by a theatre or content provider;
- missed shows, late entry, or refusal of entry by a theatre;
- interruptions caused by internet, device, or third-party failures;
- unauthorised access caused by your failure to protect your password; or

- indirect, incidental, or consequential losses arising from use of the service.

Nothing in these Terms limits rights that cannot be excluded under applicable law.

12. Suspension and termination

We may suspend or close an account if we reasonably believe it has been used to breach these Terms, create duplicate accounts, abuse booking limits, or harm the service or other users. Where appropriate, we may first ask you to explain the activity.

You may request account closure by contacting support. Account deletion is not currently available as a self-service feature.

13. Privacy

Our Privacy, Cookies and Data Retention Policy explains what personal data CineHub collects, why it is used, how long it is kept, and how to make a privacy request. It forms part of these Terms.

14. Governing law and disputes

These Terms are governed by the laws of India. Subject to any mandatory consumer protection rights, disputes will be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts located in Delhi, India.

Before starting a formal dispute, please contact CineHub support so that we can try to resolve the issue informally.

15. Contact

16. Changes to these Terms

We may update these Terms from time to time. The current version and effective date are shown at the top of this document. If a change is material, we will take reasonable steps to notify users. Continued use of CineHub after an update means you accept the revised Terms.
